

Ellie's Story

Fusion Camp is actively inspiring the younger generation of leaders to go above and beyond.

“By the end of camp, Ellie had developed into a young leader who was even more capable and self-assured, motivating everyone around her with her commitment and excitement.”

Dawid, Education & Community Sports Coach

Ellie, a spirited and sports-driven 10-year-old, stands out as a shining example of the transformative power of engagement and mentorship in physical activity.

Ellie has participated in numerous Fusion Camps throughout the years. During her time with Active Fusion, Ellie's passion for sports and dedication to maintaining an active lifestyle has grown. What truly set Ellie apart was her natural leadership flair. Her ability to communicate, interact, and take on responsibilities exhibited her leadership potential from the initial stages of her participation in the Fusion Camps. Over the years, Ellie's interest in developing her leadership skills only grew stronger and her attendance at our Tickhill October Camp in 2023 was a turning point.

When asked about her reason for attending Fusion Camp, Ellie expressed, “I like making new friendships because that makes me feel happy. I like learning different sports to get better at them for example football.” She continued, “If I wasn’t here at camp, I would be sitting at home watching TV or going on a walk with my dad.”

During our October camps and as one of the older members at the camp, Ellie naturally assumed a nurturing role, aiding newer attendees to feel welcomed and involved. Under the guidance of mentors like Coach Tom, Ellie blossomed. She actively engaged in a leadership booklet that helped track her progress, reflecting on her development. Her growth in leadership skills went above and beyond, garnering praise for her proficiency in connecting with others and assuming responsibilities.

Ellie commented, "I have enjoyed preparing my own session which then I had a chance to deliver to other participants and I like the fact that other children enjoyed what I have prepared for them. Coach Tom worked through a leadership booklet with me, and it was cool to see where I was to begin with and where I was at the end."

As the camps progressed, Ellie's desire to become an Active Fusion coach became clearer. Her aspirations stemmed from a love for teaching and sharing her knowledge of various sports. Her eagerness and determination to be a coach were evident in her words: "The leadership opportunity allowed me to improve communication, teamwork, organisational and problem-solving skills. I will use the skills that I have learned in the future if I become a sports coach." She added, "When I am older, I would like to be an Active Fusion coach. I feel I will be good at it because I like speaking in front of people and I know a lot of different sports that I could teach to other children."

When I am older, I would like to be an Active Fusion coach!

Her transformation from a keen participant to a confident young leader became evident to everyone at the camp. Her ability to motivate, lead, and collaborate with coaches and peers made her an invaluable member of the Fusion Camp community. Coach Dawid commented, "By the end of camp, Ellie had developed into a young leader who was even more capable and self-assured, motivating everyone around her with her commitment and excitement. Her time at camp demonstrated a notable growth in her leadership skills."

Fusion Camps provided an environment that not only improved Ellie's sporting abilities but also nurtured her emerging leadership qualities.
