

Cyprian's Story

Cyprian returned to Fusion Camps in February, excited for the day ahead. He embraced new games like Woggles and Four Corner Football, mastering them with enthusiasm and energy.

"Cyprian has thrived during his time at our Carcroft Fusion Camps, evolving into a role model and discovering new sports along the way."

Patrick Stothard, Sports Development Officer (School Games Organiser)

Cyprian, aged 10, returned to Fusion Camps in Carcroft this February half-term, eager to jump back into the action. With a natural connection to the coaches, outstanding behaviour, and a strong circle of friends within the community, he is a valued and much-loved member of the Fusion Camps family.

A Passion for Staying Active

Always full of energy, Cyprian thrives on staying active, making Fusion Camps the perfect place for him to enjoy a balance of fun and fitness throughout the half-term. Outside of camp, he maintains an impressive routine of around three hours of exercise daily, whether walking his dogs, playing with friends, or seizing any opportunity to stay on the move. When it's time to unwind, he enjoys playing computer games and connecting with friends online.

Exciting New Experiences

This half-term, he experienced many memorable moments at Fusion Camps but was especially captivated by the new games introduced. He loved Woggles, a unique Fusion Camps game, and embraced the fresh challenge of Four Corner Football, making his time at camp even more exciting and action-packed.

Cyprian also enhanced his football skills during the activities, as well as during break and lunchtime with his friends. He's excited to put these newfound skills to use, both when playing with his friends and on the team. Each day, Cyprian arrived eager for the day ahead, excited to meet new friends while also reconnecting with familiar faces from previous camps.

A Journey of Growth and Positivity

Each day, Cyprian arrives at Fusion Camps with a beaming smile, ready to embrace new challenges and make the most of every opportunity. By the time he leaves, he's a little tired from the action-packed day, but it's a reflection of the energy and enthusiasm he brings to every activity. At Fusion Camps, we encourage all participants to step outside their comfort zones, try new things, and develop new skills. Cyprian is a perfect example of this, thriving in every aspect of camp and embracing every experience with enthusiasm.

Building Strong Connections

Cyprian has formed a special bond with the coaches, saying, "They're the best! They're great at managing behaviour, but they also know how to make things fun." His time at Fusion Camps has helped him build lasting friendships and a strong sense of community. He's eager to return, reconnect with old friends, and welcome new ones.

Camps lets you meet new people, make lots of friends and leave hyped.

Confidence, Leadership, and Positive Change

Since joining Fusion Camps, Cyprian has grown in confidence, resilience, and leadership. Initially reserved, he quickly found his stride, forming friendships through teamwork and shared experiences. Over time, he became a role model, taking on responsibilities and supporting others. His journey reflects the incredible impact of Fusion Camps in helping young people grow, develop new skills, and build self-belief.
